Dawn Scott

Senior Graphic Designer

Dawn Scott joined Stream in 2021 as a Senior Graphic Designer in the firm's Nashville office. She works collaboratively with the creative team and Stream's Strategic Marketing Director of the East Region to develop brand strategy and deliver design components to completion, inclusive of print and digital collateral for existing and prospective clients. In addition to brand development, she is tasked with integrating innovation to further Stream's brand across the Nashville market.

Dawn has spent most of her career in advertising agencies and in-house marketing departments creating powerful brand stories and marketing campaigns. She brings extensive experience in creative strategy, digital marketing campaigns, print design and client relations.

Prior to joining Stream, she worked for a large non-profit organization and is a graduate of Austin Peay State University.
