Martin Pupil

Executive Managing Director & Partner

Martin (Marty) Pupil joined Stream in 2018 to grow Stream's service offerings in Southern California. Marty focuses on expanding Stream's real estate services platform in the Orange County, Inland Empire, and Los Angeles markets. He is a real estate veteran, whose visionary approach to business makes him an invaluable asset towards the growth and acceleration of Stream's success in Southern California.

Prior to joining Stream, Pupil worked at Colliers for the past 14 years, where he most recently served as the National President of Brokerage Services. In this role, Pupil oversaw regional presidents, service line leaders, market leaders and sales professionals while expanding the Colliers platform through new business development and recruiting. During his tenure at Colliers, Pupil also held multiple titles within the company, providing operational oversight of the firms' business for regions across the Western United States.
